Reduced Rates.

Reduced rates on all railroads in Kentucky are offered for the Big Blue Grass Fair, to be held at Lexington the week Sept. 17th to 22nd. Special trains will be provided by the L. & N., the Q. & C., and the Southern railroads, reaching Lexington at a convenient hour in the morning and leaving late in the afternoon, so as to allow a good long day at the Fair. Definite information about rates from any given point can be had upon application to the ticket agent at that point or by writing Secretary Bain at Lexington. The management of the Fair is glad to supply all information for any who expect to attend, and it is no trouble for it to answer all necessary correspondence. The week of Sept. 17th to 22nd will be a gala week for Lexington and the Bluegrass. There will be thousands of visitors from other sections of the State and hundreds from other States. The Fair will be well worthy of the patronage of all who attend. Let every body attend this fair.

August has a good record for rain and hot weather, and September seems to follow suit.

Successful Business.

We are always glad to see Powell people prosperous wherever they may be located, so it is with pleasure we note the remarkable success of R. C. Mansfield & Son, who last year went from this county and put up a large flour mill at Winchester. Their success has been beyond their expectation and now, not only are they able to sell their daily output, but much more instead and they are forced to run night and day part of the time to keep up their orders. The Messrs. Mansfield's are both hustlers and their present large business promises to continue to grow until, we predict, they will have to enlarge their plant to keep up with growing business.

School began Tuesday with Profs. Campbell and Schultz and Miss Ada Johnson teachers. Mrs. Pattie Ware, who was elected for the primary room did not arrive, but she is expected any day to assume her duties.

Saturday, Sept. 1st, was the date of assessment upon which you must pay tax next year. Better make out a list now of what you had on that date and be prepared for the assessor when he comes around later.

Thos J. Kirk, merchant of this city, will close out his business here and move to Spout Spring where he will open a store. Spout Spring is a good point for another store and Mr. Kirk should do well there.

When the assessor comes after your list don't forget how many dogs you had last Saturday.

A chemical weed killer has been developed or tested by the Wisconsin experiment station in attempts to kill wild mustard, cockle burr, yellow dock, etc. The peculiar thing claimed for this poison is that when sprayed on a growing grain crop infested by weeds it kills the weeds without injury to the cultivated crop. The solution used consists of 100 pounds of iron sulphate dissolved in fifty-four gallons of water, which amount will spray an acre.

B. F. Burgher and R. H. Curtis, of Winchester, were in the city yesterday on business.
